

The jury's argument for the environmental prize

The investment in pre-heating and new cleaning technology at Celsa Armeringsstål in 2007 and 2008 are major, and probably stand for the biggest isolated environmental attempt that is done in our town this period.

Industry like the one at Celsa may never be pollution free, but the company has shown a will and a commitment for emissions to air that it is responsible for. The pollution situation has already been improved

The jury find of these reasons Celsa Armeringsstål AS a good and worthy winner of the environmental prize of Mo i Rana.
